Skin

Advanced Blemish Removal

Advanced Electrolysis is a quick procedure and there is minimal pain associated with the treatment. A tiny, sterile needle is very carefully inserted into or just beside the area being treated. It uses a very small current of energy which is passed into this part of the skin.

- Red Veins and Spider Naevi
- Skin Tags
- Milia
- Warts/Verrucas
- Seborrhoeic Keratosis
- Mole
- Age Spot and more...

£50 - 45mins

RF Microneedling

RF microneedling is the same procedure as traditional microneedling, however with the added benefits of radiofrequency being distributed deep into the skin layers.

The radiofrequency energy is only released when the needles reach the required destination of the skin, meaning any surrounded skin is completely protected.

The RF technology heats the deeper layers of the skin, resulting in additional tightening of the skin, in addition to the natural encouragement of collagen and elastin production through traditional microneedling.

Treatment - From £150

- encourages tissue regeneration
- stimulates fibroblast activity

HIFU

HIFU treatment will naturally kick-start your body to gently increase the levels of the collagen and elastin, helping to lift and tighten your skin. Ultrasound energy will target the deep structural layers of the skin with heat, tightening and lifting to reduce the signs of ageing and revealing a more youthful and refreshed look.

The ultrasound energy stimulates collagen production at 3 layers within the skin from superficial to deep; this boosts elasticity, skin thickness and rejuvenates the complexion.

Lower Facelift- £200

Full Face- £250

Full Face, Neck & Décolletage- £300

Radio Frequency

Radio Frequency introduces radio frequency energy to the skin of the face, creating a measurable electrical current that:

- Collagen production
- Elastin production
- Stimulated healing response
- Tightening of elastin fibers
- Improved blood flow

£75 60 mins

When it comes to skincare and enhancement treatments, one size does not fit all. The reality is there is not one perfect formula or magical ingredient for younger, smoother and brighter looking skin.

That's why at Hidden Beauty we have brought in results-oriented skin treatments, products and supplements that target the underlying physiology related to each skin type, condition and persons needs.

Platelet Rich Plasma Facial

The treatment begins with taking some of your blood from your arm and then passing it through a centrifuge to separate the platelet rich plasma from the rest.

As PRP contains a high concentration of platelets, growth factors and stem cells it is used to stimulate elastin and collagen in the skin.

Microneedling is used to deliver the platelet rich plasma to the skin on the face.

We also offer Liquid Lipo as a home treatment kit, contact us to purchase.

Microsclerotherapy

Microsclerotherapy is the injection of a sterile chemical into blood vessels, using small needles, causing inflammation irritation leading to scarring of the inner lining of the vessel. This then causes the vessel to shrink, collapse, harden or close up and eventually fade away so that is can no longer transport blood which resolves the cosmetic problem.

Injection microsclerotherapy is a treatment for spider veins which involves injecting a chemical substance called 'sclerosant' using fine needles. The sclerosant irritates the inner wall of the veins and causes them to become inflamed; the vein walls then stick together and the vein disappears.

After the procedure your body will continue to break down and then absorb the damaged vein, making it no longer visible
